

Dr. Shahin Fesharaki

Global Chief Scientific Officer

Dr. Shahin Fesharaki is responsible for Lupin's global research and development efforts across branded, generics and specialty products.

With three decades of rich experience in drug development in leading global pharmaceutical companies, Shahin most recently served as the Chief Scientific Officer and Global Head of R&D for Hikma Pharmaceuticals. Prior to that, he has held various leadership positions in the pharma industry.

Shahin has a Doctorate degree in Pharmaceutical Technology from the University of Mumbai, and a Master's in Pharmacy from the Savitribai Phule Pune University.